

Backgrounds to business idea

The blind people used to rent guider or someone to help them, so we wanted to make their transportation and movement easier there for we made the blindless glasses which is glasses using their sense of hearing to avoid obstacles and to be able to know their direction and road.

Market Segment

The segment we targeting for our product is the blind people and the who is having problems with their eyes, and we are probably lucky we do not have competitors and that is one of our strengths

SWOT Analysis

-Strengths: That our product fill the needs of our customer, and it is a new idea and it makes the movements easier as well, there is a lot of blind people around the world.

-Weaknesses: Promote our product, it needs a lot of money to promote it because ads are not that cheap.-

Opportunity: as we are the first creates of this product there could be a big chance to success over 90%

-Threat: Possibility of direct competitors appearing for us in the near future.

Objectives of the Company

- ❖ Sell about 2000 glasses in the first year, and have an annual increase in sales of 15%
- ❖ We have a large customer base
- ❖ Try to get to the capital in 5 years
- ❖ Provide maintenance and customer services to keep in touch with customers

Executive Summary

Blindless is a company that created a glasses that is made carefully with high technology with sensors in the front, for blind people and who has a vision impairment(who can't see for 60%) . The glasses uses sounds that can determine which direction to go to, if there is any obstacles they have Infront of them to avoid .

Product and Service

It is medical electronic glasses that allow the blind people to figure out the route and the direction they are walking in by the guiding sensors .

Pricing Strategy

We will use the two out three strategy for pricing our products. Firstly, the demand based pricing, which is the more our product gets bought or requested, demanded the more its price gets higher. Secondly, cost based pricing which is pricing it as it costs to make(material or building it up). Finally, the competition-based price, we will use the last strategy if we got a competitors "locally" currently there is no competitors.

Competition

Direct competition: There are no competitors for us in Shaqraa

Indirect competition: locally there is no competitors in Saudi Arabia but there is AIRA, it has the advantage of being the first one started it and it has a couple of weaknesses like it is bigger than the usual glasses and it has tiny speakers, there for I think those speakers could annoy who ever is using it.

Distribution Strategy

We will use the direct channels that will be through our company website, hopefully the eyeglasses exposed around the world, the distribution will also be our own face-to-face stores and sales staff.
